FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Constellation HomeBuilder Systems Wins Progress Software Corporation's Visionary Award

Markham, ON, February 11, 2008 – Constellation HomeBuilder Systems, the largest provider of homebuilding software, wins the Visionary Award at Progress Software Corporation's 2008 application partner conference in Las Vegas.

The Progress Visionary Award is presented to a company that delivers successful products and services utilizing Progress Software's application platform and foundation technology. As an integrated solution for production homebuilders, Constellation's NEWSTAR Enterprise system and add-on products demonstrate the originality and technical vision necessary to be selected for this award. Supporting homebuilders during all phases of the building process, Constellation continues to invest in new technology to help homebuilders become more efficient with innovative software solutions. From project planning to homeowner referral, Constellation can help homebuilders improve their accounting, estimating, purchasing, reporting, scheduling, warranty, and service processes. With a single database design and an easy to use application, every homebuilder can access the information they need with the comfort of knowing that their data is up-to-date and consistent.

"Progress Software Corporation is committed to the success of our partners and their customers. Each year Progress honors Application Partners that provide their customers with innovative products and solutions," said Bob Palumbo, vice president, Progress Software Corporation's Worldwide Partner Program. "The recipients of this year's awards have developed products and solutions that help solve complex business issues for their customers worldwide. Their dedication to the development of problem solving business applications is part of what makes the Progress Application Partner Community so strong."

"We are pleased to receive this recognition from Progress Software," says Dexter Salna, President of Constellation HomeBuilder Systems. "The innovations we have brought to market, would not be possible without dedicated customers and their participation in product design. With the largest number of employees dedicated to developing and supporting homebuilding software products, we are able to work closely with customers and make these innovations a reality."
